CONGRESSMAN DEVIN NUNES

Congressman Nunes grew up on a family farm in Tulare County that has been operated by his family for three generations. After earning a Bachelor's Degree in Agricultural Business, and a Master's Degree in Agriculture from California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, he returned to work on the family farm. After being elected to serve two terms on the Board of Trustees of the College of Sequoias, in 2001 he was appointed by President George W. Bush to serve as California State Director for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development. In 2002, he was elected to the House of Representatives in California's 21st congressional district. As a result of redistricting he now represents the 22nd district, which is located in the San Joaquin Valley. This 22nd district includes portions of Tulare and Fresno Counties.

Congressman Nunes serves as Ranking Member of the House Permanent Committee on Intelligence, which is responsible for overseeing the seventeen agencies and departments comprising the U.S Intelligence Community. He also serves on the Ways and Means Committee, which has jurisdiction over taxes, trade, healthcare, and major entitlement programs such as social security. He previously served as Intelligence Committee Chairman and as Chairman of the Ways and Means Trade Subcommittee. Congressman Nunes' priorities in Congress include strengthening the nation's security against terrorists and foreign threats, reducing the size and scope of the federal government, continuing to lower taxes and simplify the tax code, implementing free-market healthcare reforms that improve outcomes and increase patient choice, and ending the San Joaquin Valley's man-made drought.

The Federal Election Commission (FEC) allows an individual to contribute up to $2900 per election; a qualified political action committee may contribute up to $5000 per election. The primary, general, special, and runoff elections are considered separate elections for the purposes of these limits. Contributions that exceed $2900 from an individual and $5000 from a qualified political action committee will be automatically attributed to the next applicable election, unless specified otherwise. Federal Law requires us to report the name, mailing address, occupation, and name of employer for each individual whose contributions aggregate in excess of $200 in an election cycle. Contributions from foreign nationals are prohibited. No corporate checks or corporate credit cards may be accepted. Partnership and LLC contributions may be accepted under certain guidelines. Contributions are not considered charitable contributions for federal income tax purposes.
